TWO CENTS

SAILED AIRSHIP UP THE COAST OF NEWENGLAND

Knabenshue Makes Record In Flying Trough
Air.

Brant Rock, Mass., Aug. 7.—No achievement in aeronautics in recent years exceeds in importance the trip made in an air ship from New York to this place by Dr. J. P. Thomas, of New York, and Roy Knabenshue of Toledo, Ohio.

The trip was made for the purpose of testing two new appliances, a guide rope and water anchor. The former device worked with great success.

The voyage was made with one stop, and that voluntary, at Noank, Conn., where by the aid of a new guide rope Dr. Thomas quickly brought his balloon to the earth to procure food and water. The aeronauts started at New York and landed at Brant Rock, being nearly 12 hours on their trip of 235 miles.

The ascent in New York was made without mishap. The balloon rose high over New York city and sailed over Long Island sound. After several miles a thick fog swept over the

ROY KNABENSCHUE.
sound and the aeronauts were unable to tell whether they were drifting.
By the use of his guide rope Dr.
Thomas brought the car nearer earth and from the blasts of fog horns knew he was still over the waters of the sound. Off Bridgeport, Conn., attracted by one of the whistling craft, Dr. Thomas brought his airship still closer to the water and astonished the members of a yachting party by hailing them from misty darkness.
From them he learned his exact position, then resumed his journey.

Long Island sound was gradually left behind and the balloon soared over the hills and meadows of Rhode Island. Desirous of further testing his guide rope, Dr. Thomas dropped nearer to land at Warwick and descended so close that he was able to ask of inhabitants what place it was.
Over Narragansett bay and into Massachusetts the balloon sailed, and finally the ocean came in view and preparations were made for a final descent. The car dropped rapidly until it struck the meadow land belonging to George H. Thomas at Brant Rock. The car, made unsteady by its lack of ballast, bounded along the ground over 100 yards before its anchor held it. With the open waters of Massachusetts bay scarcely 300 yards away.

Dr. Thomas said in an interview that the trip from every viewpoint was the most successful yet accomplished. The balloon was not damaged, but Knabenshue was cut slightly during the final descent at this place. Otherwise nothing marred the flight.

School Board Held Short Sess'n

School board met Monday evening.
Bills for the repairs on the school buildings were allowed; teachers of Modern Language, History and for the Commercial Department were elected and the assignment of the grade teachers as made by Dr. Platt was approved.

Resolutions were passed to issue bonds to the extent of two mills on present taxable property to pay for the addition to the South Lawn building. These bonds will be for $500 each to draw 4 per cent. interest and will be sold by competitive bids.
After adjournment of the last meeting the following bills were passed:

AIRSHIP FOR FRENCH ARMY.

The French army authorities have recently adopted the airship herewith pictured for the use of the war department. Eighty tests of it were made at Toul, the French military station, and success attended all of them, the balloon showing a dirigibility that was entirely satisfactory. It is a modification of the Lebaudy motor idea.

PAVE FORKS ROAD OR BUILD BRIDGE?

The county commissioners granted audience Tuesday morning to David Johnston, of Tunnel Hill, Ex-Sheriff Hedgcock and Auditor Randless, who argued in favor of the county making improvements on the roadway in the forks between the two river bridges.
They ask that the commissioners raise the roadway about three feet and then pave it with paving bricks.
It is estimated that the improvement would cost the county about $3,000.
The commissioners have not said they will grant the request.

In fact, one of the commissioners informed The Age that he is of the opinion that if put to a vote the people of the county will vote in favor of building a bridge from Coshocton to Roscoe, at the foot of Main street and that this is the only way to insure safe communication, unbroken by the highest floods, between the county seat and the major portion of the county.

The commissioners appointed viewers of the road in Franklin township petitioned for by Robson, et al., as follows: D. F. Laughlin, James Lennon and H. S. Scott. The date of viewing is August 23.
They expect to adjourn this afternoon.

INVESTED $30,000 IN WOOL THIS YEAR

John Lotenz & Sons, wool buyers, finished their season's work in this city Tuesday. They have shipped from the local station four carloads of wool, the cars ranging from 12,000 to 18,000 pounds each. The wool was all purchased from the growers in this vicinity and delivered in lots at the warehouse used by the Lorenz firm on Second street. Here the wool was sacked and made ready to ship.

The prices paid for the wool ranged from 25 to 30 cents per pound for unwashed, and from 30 to 33 cents per pound for the washed quality and condition of the wool had much to do with determining the price this year than ever before.

About the same amount shipped from here was also purchased by Lorenz's in the northern part of the county and in Holmes and Tuscarawas counties. This has been delivered at and will be shipped from Chil-

DO YOU KNOW YOU SLEEP FOUR MONTHS IN EVERY YEAR?

He is a bed doctor. That is all he claims for himself and says distinctly that he is not a "mattress manufacturer." Quick of wit and an entertaining talker, T. V. Ramsey has come to Coshocton after a residence of a quarter of a century in Mt.
Vernon. He has leased the old Catholic church property, on north Third street, and has come to Coshocton to stay "the next 25 years," as he naively puts it. Mr. Ramsey is interesting and puts the household bed in a new light.

"Did you ever stop to think how much time you spent in bed?" he asked an Age man "Say you get eight hours a day sleep and the fact is that many people sleep ten. But say eight; that is, 121 2/3 days you are asleep out of each year. In a lifetime of fifty years you spend more than sixteen years in bed asleep.

That is why I say every town needs a bed doctor. The bed cannot be too sweet and clean. You want the cleanest and most sanitary means, you have gotten congress to raise thunder just for clean meat. And yet some of the people who stand aghast at Chicago revelations will go home and sleep in a bed they'd be ashamed to show their friends.
More than one family ought to call in the bed doctor.

Mrs. Johnson Dies at Plainfield

Susan T. Johnson, the widow of the late James R. Johnson died at the advanced age of ninety years at her home near Plainfield at noon Tuesday of the infirmities of old age.
She had celebrated her birthday but last Sunday July 29. Mrs. Johnson was the mother of Mrs. W. R. Gault of this city and Mrs. Alice Sibley of Plainfield and came of an old Virginia family, whose lives have been marked not only by good deeds but by longevity. She is survived by her two daughters and a sister, aged 93, who is still hale and hearty at her home at Parkersburg. The funeral will likely be held Thursday at Plainfield. Mrs. Johnson was a devout member of the M. E. church and her death comes as a shock to her hosts of friends.

Death of Babe.
The infant child of Mr. and Mrs.
William Poland, who live south of town died Monday evening. The funeral services were held this afternoon.

SUICIDE AND DEATH FOLLOW THE CRASH OF A CHICAGO FAMILY BANK

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Many families, largely among working people, will lose heavily by the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank.

The fact that the bank was on the verge of failure was first revealed by the president, Paul O. Stensland, one of the absent officials. A letter to his son Theodore, who is vice president, written from St. Paul and received last Saturday, started the investigation which brought about the suspension. Another sensational feature of the affair was the disappearance of the cashier, Henry W. Hering, and the issuing of a warrant for his arrest on a charge of embezzlement. A message ordering his apprehension was sent to every police station in the city.

The first public intimation that the bank was in trouble was the posting of a notice by the bank examiner stating that the business was suspended for the purpose of making an examination of the bank's affairs, and that the institution was in the hands of the state auditor. The news spread rapidly throughout the entire northwest side of the city, where the bank had been for years a popular depository for funds saved by working people.

The institution was known as a "family bank." The Stensland family, for years well known residents of the northwest side, owned much of the stock, and members of the family operated the bank. It was organized in 1891, and succeeded the banking firm of Paul O. Stensland & Company. It was launched with a paid up capital of $250,000. A statement made by the vice president showed $1,051,000 in cash on hand. He said that the bank carried deposits of $4,200,000, and had 22,000 depositors.
The Stensland bank was not a member of the clearing house, but cleared through the American Trust and Savings bank. The concern's New York correspondents are the Mercantile and the Chase National banks.

Mr. Stensland was trusted, implicitly by the people who placed their savings in his care, and he had an equally enviable reputation for integity among the bankers down town.

It is evident, however, that the published statements of the bank did not show its true condition.

An examination of the bank's affairs was begun after receipt of the letter from Stensland. Acting on instructions contained therein, the vice president, Theodore Stensland, opened a deposit box and discovered proofs that the bank's funds were in bad shape. President Potter of the American Trust and Savings bank, which acted as clearing agent for the defunct institution, was called into consultation. The state auditor was notified and immediately sent the state bank examiner to make a full investigation.

The shortage is estimated to be between $750,000 and $1,000,000. Disastrous speculation in real estate and in the security market is said to be responsible. Members of the clearing house committee were told that most of this amount was wholly unprotected by adequate collateral.

Fictitious notes to the amount of $700,000 are said to figure in the story of the bank's troubles. Numerous notes listed as assets, it is known, have been found in the investigation to have been taken up but not collected by their makers.

No down-town bank is involved with it in any way, and there is no chance of a loss by them. The Milwaukee Avenue bank had on deposit at the American Trust a balance of $225,000; at the Commercial National a deposit of $200,000; with the First National of Cleveland, O., a deposit of $180,000, and other cash making a total of $1,051,000, being about 25 per cent of its total deposits.

The failure was responsible for the death of one of the depositors and the suicide of another man who a month ago had placed his earnings for a lifetime in the institution for safe keeping. In the excitement following the announcement of the failure, G. Visser, an official of the clearing house, who had on deposit in the bank funds of that organization, was dead of heart failure. Henry Koenig, a small grocer, on hearing that the bank had suspended payment, went to the rear of his store and shot himself. He died a few minutes later while being removed to a hospital.

THREE NEGROES HUNG BY MOB

Supposed To Have Killed
Fast Train Thru Here
And Burned In South.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 7.—A mob of $6,000 determined men forcibly entered the Rowan county jail at Salisbury, removed therefrom three of the five negroes charged with the murder of the Lyerly family at Barber Junction July 13, and lynched them there.
Nease and John Gillespie and Jack Dillingham, supposed to be the principals in that crime, were the victims of the mob. The remaining negroes, Henry Lee, George Ervin and Bella Dillingham, were not molested, and officers hurried them off to Greensboro.

The crime for which the three men were lynched was committed this night of July 13 near Barber Junction, about 40 miles from Greensboro.
Isaac Lyerly, a well known farmer, his wife and two children, were killed while asleep, a third child was fatally wounded and the house set on fire.
The discovery of the crime was made by two elder daughters who were sleeping up stairs and were aroused by the smoke and flames from below, and who sought to arouse the other members of the family. The two girls managed to carry the dead bodies from the burning house and notified the train dispatcher, who wired the news to the sheriff at Salisbury.

PRIDE OF PANHANDLE

Fast Train Thru Here
At 7:30 p. m.
Wrecked.

Pittsburg, Aug. 7.—Two persons were killed in a wreck on the Panhandle road, two miles outside this city. The train, known as "The Pride of the Panhandle," is the Cincinnati and New York limited eastbound.
The wreck occurred at a switch, but until an investigation is made it cannot be learned whether the switch was opened or there was some obstruction on the track. The train, which was made up of one sleeper, two chair cars, a diner and baggage car, left Columbus, O., at 5:45 p. m., and was due in this city at 11 o'clock
p. m. Just before reaching the bridge at the junction of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers the engine jumped the track and fell against a high bluff on one side. The airbrakes set up automatically, but the baggage car fell toward the opposite side of the track from the engine toward a retaining wall, toppled over and caught fire. The remaining cars held the track. The engineer and the men in the baggage car escaped, but the two firemen, who jumped in a direction opposite to that in which the engine toppled, were caught by the baggage car as it fell over and were killed. The dead men are O. D. Cunningham and James W. Austab. The fire was extinguished. As soon as the wreck train arrived, the train was brought to the Union station in this city and left for New York.

WRECKED BOAT WAS SMUGGLER

The Sirio Avoided The High Paths of The Seas.

Cartagena, Spain, Aug. 7.—A wreck of unfortunate passengers of the Italian steamer "Sirio," wrecked on the Hormigas rocks, coasting in the Mediterranean, was brought ashore.
Of the survivors, 140 were Jans, 40 Spaniards, 30 Arabs, 20 trians, 6 orientals, 4 Argentinians, Brazilian, 2 Montenegrins and persons whose nationality is not forth. The death list is still comed at over 300.

It is believed that some of the sengers who secured life boats were picked up alive by vessels passing in the vicinity and disembarked at Barcelona, Port Vendres or Marseilles.
Spanish warships stationed at Car-tagenas and Alicante were ordered to search the neighborhood of the catastrophe for survivors who may be still floating on pieces of wreckage or with life buoys.

The first reports of the disaster declared without qualification that the captain of the Sirio committed suicide. Later information, however, shows that he was on board the steamer when she sank, and expressed the determination to go down with the vessel. He was afterward rescued in spite of his refusal to be saved.

The Spanish minister of marine requested the ministry of finance to supply funds to succor the stricken passengers. The Italian consul here and members of the Italian colony, acting in co-operation with local authorities, provided for the immediate wants of the shipwrecked people.

A survivor of the wreck was greatly near Alicante. He was carrying a valise full of jewels and had a large sum of money. He declared that another survivor confided the valise to his charge, promising to give him half the contents if he succeeded in escaping with it.

A dispatch from Barcelona makes a startling statement to account for the wreck of the Sirio. It is alleged that the Italian steamer was engaged in the clandestine embarkation of Spanish emigrants along the coast, and that large sums of money were paid for this work. This is said to explain why the vessel followed a course never taken by ships of equal draft.

Delinquent Tax Is Lighter

Treasurer Clark and Auditor Rand-less have figured the delinquent taxes for this settlement and find it to be about $400 less than last time. It aggregates $3,490 92, not counting $351 dog tax, or close to $4000 that is delinquent. To this sum 15 per cent is to be added.
Saturday was the biggest day since the books closed there being $628 paid in. There is now in the county strong box $6,129 96 not including what is in the county depository.
There was paid out Monday $205.

TAX INEQUALITIES.

In Ohio the supreme court has just "killed" a provision in the tax law whereby tax-dodging was fought with the aid of private "smellers" and "informers." Citizens were encouraged by rich bonuses and prizes to "hunt down" persons and corporations whose schedules were too low, and it appears that some persons found this sort of detective work a source of high profit.

In commenting on the decision annulling the provision for the payment of such rewards to volunteer inquisitors the Cleveland Leader says that "a bad state of things has been made worse." The public rather enjoyed the spectacle of rich dodgers being brought to time, but the counties paid too much for the "hunting down" process. Our contemporaries hope that public opinion will "no longer endure the wholesale inequities and imbecilities of the system in use." Familiar words, these. What state does not apply them to its own tax situation?—Chicago Record Herald.

POLITICS TALKED AT CEDAR POINT

Legislative Reunion Starts Busy Bees A-Buzzing.

In an article on the legislative reunion at Cedar Point, the Sandusky Register prints the following:
Four candidates for secretary of state are at the big lake resort. They are S. G. Cummings, of Oberlin, who arrived Thursday morning; ex-Senator Werts, of Youngstown; Col. Carmi Thompson, of Ironton, speaker of the house of Representatives and Frank Riegle, of Bowling Green. Mr. Riegle arrived Thursday morning. A thousand people from his home city, the Wood county capital, were with him and these, Mr. Riegle jokingly remarked, were for him, men, women and children. The Bowling Green merchants ran an excursion to the Point Thursday and Mr. Riegle was one of the patrons on the downward trip.

The race for the nomination for secretary of state, according to information considered highly reliable has not been run by any means. The four contestants, while each one is claiming some advantage, are just about on an even footing.

Joe H. Dowling, of Dayton, spent the greater part of Thursday taking in the sights at Cedar Point. Mr. Dowling says Cedar Point has advanced wonderfully since the days of the Democratic state convention, four years ago, and that he considers it an ideal place not alone for legislative reunions but for other political meetings.

Mr. Dowling is perhaps one of the most interesting men in the Democratic party in Ohio today. He is called a trouble-maker by some but others say he is to be admired for his nerve.

Mr. Dowling, it will be remembered, was collector of customs at Cincinnati under President Cleveland but resigned because he could not agree with the powers behind the administration.

"Demand" $300 Dow Tax.
Representative Dudley Wayne says one of the first duties of the legislature when it reconvenes in 1905 would be to repeal the Alkin $1,000 Dow tax law and substitute a $500 law in its place. This, says Mr. Wayne, is not only what the people want, but what they demand. There are others of the senators and representatives at Cedar Point, according to reports, who are inclined to believe Mr. Wayne right.

Col. Rodney J. Liegle is gaining new support in his race for the nomination for dairy and food commissioner on the Democratic ticket. The Democrats at this point all say Liegle is the man that there will be no votes against him in the Columbus convention, Aug. 21 and 22.

Hon. William J. Frey, of the Final, for two years chairman of the Democratic state central committee, arrived Thursday at noon from Cleveland where he was the guest of his brother-in-law, J. C. Gilchrist, of the Transportation company. Mr. Frey imparted considerable information concerning the trip to be made by Ohioans to New York to receive, upon arrival, William J. Bryan who, according to present indications, will be the Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1908.

"I am going to New York with Mayor Johnson, of Cleveland," said Mr. Frey. "There will be regularly organized party or committee from Ohio I understand, however, that a great many prominent Democrats from the Buckeye state will be on hand to welcome Mr. Bryan upon arrival."

"From what I have been able to learn," said Mr. Frey, continuing, "Mr. Bryan will make at least two speeches in Ohio, one at Cleveland and one at Cincinnati."

"That Mr. Frey is a great admirer of the Nebraska is evident," he said. "William J. Bryan, in my opinion, is the greatest American citizen. When he returns his education, gained by a comparative study of international affairs his knowledge of American politics and his wonderful ability to absorb facts, together with his so apparent love for the common people, will enable him with very little trouble to outline a policy that will insure equal rights to all. He is devoting his life to the welfare of his nation I repeat, he is the greatest American citizen."

Tongues Before Spoons

It is true that some irregularities of conduct may be excused under the plea "fingers were made before forks." But this defense of the ability of the human body, of itself, to do its own work. This "finger before fork" averment, has been superseded it no longer expresses the meaning, and instead comes the new one, "tongues were made before spoons."

Perhaps you don't believe me, sir. Then, of a truth, you were not "in market" on a certain morning lately, nor has the incident which then happened come to your ears.

She was not a miller's daughter fair, but, barring the miller, the description would hold, even as all women are daughters of Eve and all fair in someone's eyes. No, this tale is not poetic, but unprofitable prose, of "tongues" and "spoons" than which what can be prosier.

Just a trim, sensible, comely young woman on her way to market—our own market, which opens up before the sun has kissed the dew drops in Roscoe's silent citadel. To be trim and comely at such an hour is to merit kind speech from all.

After sundry purchases were made along the line of wagons, an inviting display of cottage cheese was spied by the early morning shopper, over which, as a part of his case, hovered a farmer man. This man is nameless, descriptionless, truly says everything, for 'tis not what he is but what he does that is the climax of this tale of tongues and spoons.

"Your cottage cheese looks appetizing sir," she said, "and if it pleases you may give me a quart of it in this jar which I have brought." Not really thus and so was it she spoke, but about thus and so; and the man did ever as he was requested. And the morning was fair and bright; a sweet breeze found its way along Main street—woman can do no wrong on such a morning.

The jar was soon filled with the creamy goodness; filled quite to overflowing. Indeed, it is much too full, for it runs quite over the outside. The man will take a shining spoon lightly dipped in clear water and carefully clean the jar—not he, but he extends his tongue and licks away the overflowing surplusage.

"Tongues were made before spoons."

Sensible comely young women do not make scenes at such times as this; they become sad eyed, with lips set firm and voice determined, low. "Sir, you may keep your cottage cheese," she said, and as he did not seem to understand, she left him. The truth seems slowly some places. There is a moral in this for the marketmen, but as Emerson Brooks said at the first Chautauque, we leave our morals at home this hot weather.

Woman's Nightmare

The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

Sending Truth After a Lie.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE Ladies' Home Journal.

DR. PIERCE'S TRADUCERS COME TO GRIEF.

It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, groveling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the Curtis Publishing Company, publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal. The suit was for $200,000 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business; furthermore, that no alcohol, or other injurious, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever, and that Mr. Bok's malicious statements were wholly and absolutely false.

In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription," from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs!

These facts also came out in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured from the effect of the publication of the original libel with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the original wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traducers came to grief. Their base slanders were refuted and they were obliged to "eat humble pie."

During the trial of the libel suit Dr. Lee H. Smith, Vice-President of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stated under oath that the ingredients of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription were wholly extracted from the following native roots: Golden Seal, Blue Cohosh, Lady's Slipper, Black Cohosh and Unicorn by means of pure glycerine of proper strength. He was asked how he knew, as a physician and experienced medical man, that the "Favorite Prescription" was a cure for the diseases peculiar to women; such as female weakness, leucorrhoea, prolapsus, retroversion and other displacements of the womanly organs, and he stated that he knew such was the fact because of his professional experience and the many thousands of women whose ills had been cured by this "Prescription."

This experience of Dr. Smith was corroborated by the standard Medical Authorities of the several schools of medicine endorsing the various ingredients in the strongest terms. Dr. Smith being asked to name some of these authorities as to the curative value of the above roots read from the standard works, such as the United States Dispensary, The American Dispensatory, Organic Medicines, by Grover Cox, M. D.; Materia Medica and Therapeutics, by Professor Finley Ellingwood of the Bennett Medical College of Chicago; "New Remedies," by Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Chicago; Text-Book of Therapeutics, by Dr. Robert A. Hare, Professor in University of Pennsylvania; and "Woman and Her Diseases," by Wm. Palmer, M. D., Author of "New School Practice of Medicine," Professor John M. Souder, M. D., Author of a treatise on "The Diseases of Women and Her Diseases," Wm. Palmer, M. D., Prof. of Materia Medica, Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia.

All these recognized and standard authorities praise in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient which enters into the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments. In fact the "Favorite Prescription" stands alone as being the only medicine for woman's special ailments which has any such professional endorsement which fact is generally recognized as entitled to much more weight than any amount of lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone as the only non-secret, medicine for woman's ailments, the manufacture of which are not afraid to publish their formula broadcast—thus courting the fullest scrutiny.

The "Favorite Prescription" has been on trial in court and came out fully vindicated as containing no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

What other medicine for women could stand such a test? No invalid woman can afford to accept a secret nostrum of unknown composition for this tried and proven remedy of known composition. Leading physicians often prescribe it because they know exactly what it is made of and that the ingredients of which it is composed are the very best known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and delicate ailments. Sold by all druggists.

NATURE SPARES

The Sufferer Needs From God.
What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the race of mental suffering; for how poignant would be the grief, to discover, in the height of its glorious glory, that it was to be a part, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable storehouse of healing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by, falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

BEVERLY OF GRAUSTARK

By GEORGE BARR MYCUTCHEN,
Author of "Graustark"

Copyright, 1904, by Dodd, Mead and Company.

CHAPTER XXX.

THE next morning a royal messenger came to Count Marlanx. He bore two sealed letters from the princess. One briefly informed him that General Brue was his successor as commander in chief of the army of Graustark. He hesitated long before opening the other. It was equally brief and to the point. The Iron Count's teeth came together with a savage snap as he read the signature of the princess at the end. There was no recourse. She had struck for Beverly Calhoun. He looked at his watch. It was 11 o'clock. The edict gave him twenty-four hours from the noon of that day. The gray old libertine dispatched a messenger for his man of affairs, a lawyer of high standing in Edelweiss. "Together they consulted until midnight. Shortly after daybreak the morning following Count Marlanx was in the train for Vienna, never to set foot on Graustark's soil again. He was banished and his estates confiscated by the government.

The ministry in Edelweiss was not slow to reopen negotiations with Dawsbergen. A proclamation was sent to the prime minister setting forth the new order of affairs and suggesting the instant suspension of hostile preparations and the restoration of Prince Dantun. Accompanying this proclamation went a dignified message from Dantun informing his people that he awaited their commands. He was ready to resume the throne that had been so desecrated. It would be his joy to restore Dawsbergen to its once peaceful and prosperous condition. In the meantime the Duke of Mizroth dispatched the news to the Princess Volga of Axlaphin, who was forced to abandon temporarily at least—her desperate designs upon Graustark. The capture of Gabriel put an end to her trans-parent plans.

"But she is bound to break out against us sooner or later and on the slightest provocation," said Yette.

"I dare say that a friendly alliance between Graustark and Dawsbergen will prove sufficient to check any ambitions she may have along that line," said Ravone significantly. "They are very near to each other now, four highness. Friends should stand together."

Beverly Calhoun was in suspense. Baldos had been sent off to the frontier by Prince Dantun, carrying the message which could be trusted to no other. He accompanied the Graustark ambassadors of peace as Dantun's special agent. He went in the nighttime, and Beverly did not see him. The week which followed his departure was the longest she ever spent. She was troubled in her heart for fear that he might not return, despite the declaration she had made to him in one hysterical moment. It was difficult for her to keep up the show of cheerfulness that was expected of her. Reticence became her strongest characteristic. She persistently refused to be drawn into a discussion of her relations with the absent one. Yette was piqued by her manner at first, but wisely saw through the mask as time went on. She and Prince Dantun had many quiet and interesting chats concerning Beverly and the erstwhile guard. The prince took Lorry and the princess into his confidence. He told them all there was to tell about his dashing friend and companion.

Beverly and the young Princess Candace became fast and loving friends. The young girl's worship of her brother was beautiful to behold. She lured close to him on every occasion, and her dark eyes bespoke adoration whenever his name was mentioned in her presence.

"If he doesn't come back pretty soon I'll pack up and start for home," Beverly said to herself resentfully one day. "Then if he wants to see me he'll have to come all the way to Washington, and I'm not sure that he can do it either. He's too disgustingly poor."

"What's become of that Mistle Baldos, Miss Beverly?" asked Aunt Fanny in the midst of these sorry cogitations. "Has he tucked 'hit into his hand to desert us for good? Seems to me he'd ought to."

"Now, that will do, Aunt Fanny," reproached her mistress sternly. "You are not supposed to know anything about affairs of state, so don't ask."

At last she no longer could curb her impatience and anxiety. She deliberately sought information from Prince Dantun. They were strolling in the park on the seventh day of her inquisition.

"Have you heard from Paul Baldos?" she asked, bravely plunging into deep water.

"He is expected here tomorrow or the next day. Miss Calhoun. I am almost as eager to see him as you are," he replied, with a very pointed smile.

"Almost? Well, yes, I'll confess that I am eager to see him. I never knew I could long for any one so much as I— Oh, well, there's no use hiding it from you. I couldn't if I tried. I care very much for him. You don't think it sounds silly for me to say such a thing, do you? I've thought a great deal of him ever since the night at the fun of the Hawk and Raven. In my imagination I have tried to strip you of your princely robes to place them upon him, but he is only Baldos in spite of it all. He knows that I care for him, and I know that he cares for me. Perhaps he has told you."

"Yes, he has confessed that he loves you, Miss Calhoun, and he laments the fact that his love seems hopeless. Paul wonders in his heart if it would be right in him to ask you to give up all you have of wealth and pleasure to share a humble lot with him."

"I love him. Isn't that enough? There is no wealth so great as that. But," and she pursed her mouth in pathetic despair, "don't you think that you can make a noble or something of him and give him a station in life worthy of his ambitions? He has done so much for you, you know."

"I have nothing that I can give to him," he says. Paul Baldos asks only that he may be my champion until these negotiations are ended. Then he desires to be free to serve whom he will. All that I can do is to let him have his way. He is a free lance, and he asks no favors, no help."

"Well, I think he's perfectly ridiculous about it, don't you? And yet that is the very thing I like in him. I am only wondering how we—I mean, how he is going to live, that's all."

"If I am correctly informed he still has several months to serve in the service for which he enlisted. You alone, I believe, have the power to discharge him before his term expires," said he meekly.

CANAL LEWISVILLE.

The Epworth League social will be held at the home of Mr. Ed. Clark, one mile north of town. Everybody invited. Friday evening, August 10th.

Stuart Wilhelm and family visited the former's mother, Mrs. John Wilhelm, Sunday.

The local ball team went to Fresno to play the unfinished game of the Saturday before, which resulted in the score of 10 to 11, in our favor.

The unfair decisions of the umpire caused some disturbances, but the ball team, excluding the citizens, acted very gentlemanly.

Mrs. Isaac Ross, of Coshocton, visited relatives in the village this week.

Miss Olive Sheneman is seriously ill with malarial fever.

Mrs. Will Devor and son, of Brink Haven, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Walter Shurtz.

J. Crummett is ill with typhoid fever.

The W. F. M. S. held its annual meeting in Wolfe's grove, Thursday.

The attendance was large and an interesting program was rendered, the principal speaker being Mrs. Cassie Preston, of Xenia, O., who told of needy sufferers in California, to whom the donations of the society would be a blessing.

A sumptuous dinner was served. The out of town guests were: Mrs. Preston, of Xenia; Mrs. Howard Kuntz, of Coshocton; Mrs. Valentine, of Millersburg; Miss Cutshaw, of Keene; Mrs. S. Boyd, of Coshocton; J. E. Wolfe, D. B. Markley and Geo. Mohler, Jr.

The collection amounted to $7.15. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Benton Renfrew. It will be the Mite Box opening.

Miss Amelia Gribble has returned from West Lafayette college.

Mrs. Mary Henderson spent Sunday in White Eyes township.

Mrs. Edward Dorman and children and Mrs. Forrest, of Coshocton, were guests of Mrs. Flora Dorman Sunday.

A moonlight picnic was a stirring event of the season, in which the following young folks participated: Misses Fannie McGuire, Amelia Gribble, Edna Mohler, Edna McGuire, Bernice Tompkins, Minnie Kirk, Mary

The Modesty of Women.

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as Favorite Prescription. It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle wrapper: contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet, wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If a cent is sent at the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

Human "Steam": Keeping It Up

The Secret Of That Tireless Energy Some People Possess.

There is another kind of steam than that in which the boy James Watt, watching his mother's tea-kettle, first saw the great possibilities that long since have become realities.

This other kind of steam is human "steam." And it is a most important factor in our affairs in the world.

Some people call this human "steam" by other names. They call it "push," sometimes, or "hustle," or "get-up," or "life." Well, it's all of these, but after all it's just "steam." It's the power to do things—a seemingly tireless power which some people possess.

Malta-Vita, the perfect malted whole-wheat food, fills men and women and children with the power to do things. It makes them strong in body, and

When Malta-Vita comes from the ovens, every flake baked crisp and brown, it is the most delicious and most healthful food in the world, containing only one per cent of moisture. The other 99 per cent is nutrition, digested most readily, even by the weakest stomach, because the gelatinized starch of the thoroughly cooked wheat has been converted by fine malt extract into maltose, or malt sugar.

There's no other food like Malta-Vita! None "just as good." Sold by all grocers, 10 cents.

Archie Foster, who is employed in Dennison, is home on vacation.

When a woman suffers from depressing weaknesses, she then keenly realizes how helpless—how thoroughly worthless she is. Dr. Shoop has brought relief to thousands of such women. He reaches diseases peculiar to women in two, direct, specific ways—a local treatment known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Night Cure, and a constitutional or internal prescription called Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is applied locally, and at night. It works while you sleep. It reduces inflammation. It stops discharges, it heals, it soothes, it comforts, it cures.

A Stove that Pays for Itself

That's what the New Method Gas Range does. How? By saving you 25 per cent. of your gas bill.

The New Method Gas Range

Is made of key steel instead of cast iron. This steel being highly polished does away with all friction on the passage of the air and gas through the burner allowing a larger quantity of air to be taken up and mixed properly with the gas than can be in the thick, rough cast iron burners. The more air burned the less gas. Accurate tests made by gas experts in different parts of the country have shown an average of 25 per cent. less consumption of gas from the New Method, than from any other burner.

The steel plates in New Method Ranges are coated on both sides with enamel baked on so hard that it is not affected by heat or will not rust. Steel coated in this way will outwear cast iron and then they're the easiest to clean.

New method ranges are guaranteed for five years. Sold by

BLISSFIELD IS READY FOR OUTING

Big Excursion To Silver Lake Promises Enjoyment.

Blissfield is making great preparations for a regular Cedar Point of a time when it takes its big excursion to Silver Lake next August 26th.

W. W. McNeal, the well-known merchant of that thriving village and Dan L. Smith of the Pennsylvania lines were in the city Monday and concluded all arrangements for the big event. The train is to be a special one of just as many coaches as are needed and it might be remarked that they expect not less than 500 people. The train leaves Trinway at 6 a. m. and will stop at Wakatomika, Cooperdale, Tunnel Hill, Summit, Warsaw, Metham, Blissfield, Helmick, Layland and Killbuck, leaving Warsaw at about 7, Blissfield at about 7:30, Layland about 7:40 and Killbuck 8, and arriving at Silver Lake at 10 a. m.

The excursion is to be given under the auspices of the Sunday schools of Blissfield and the management cordially invites the Sunday schools of other villages along the line to join them and make it one great day of pleasure. Silver Lake is a delightful and modern resort with all modern amusements, that appeal especially to ladies and children. There is a charming mirror lake with safe and delightful boating as well as all other amusements. Take a lunch basket and go with the crowd.

Tickets will be on sale at Trinway, Cooperdale and Warsaw, for $1.25 round trip, and at Blissfield, Layland and Killbuck for $1. Intermediate places south of Warsaw will pay $1.25 and north $1. Tickets may also be bought on the train. It promises to be one of the finest picnics ever enjoyed by the western part of the county.

THE STEP TO SAFETY

National Cigar Stands, now established in more than 2,000 drug stores, give independence and safety to both retailer and customer.

They free the dealer from the domination of the jobber, make him virtually his own producer, and give him

Better Cigars to Sell at Lower Prices than he has ever had before, and, while supplying him with exclusive brands of incomparable merit, still leave him free to buy and sell such others as he sees fit.

The customer's safety is assured, because the National brands being manufactured in million lots under the most expert supervision in the world and kept in condition by a scientific storage system installed by all National Stands, give him greater uniformity and better condition than ever before. As an example try the

Pirates Abroad

One would never think, to look at the placid waters of the Walhonding or the peaceful fields and woods which line its banks that water pirates could possibly lurk thereabouts, but they do; according to the opinion of two Coshocton youths they are veritable Captain Kidds.

The youths in question went up to Walhonding by train not many days ago with the avowed intention of floating down the stream by moonlight. The canoes were in the best possible condition, the moon shone out right brilliantly, the current was just swift enough to make things interesting and the boatmen were expecting the best sport possible.

They came down the river in peace for quite a distance but when they were still some miles above the Denman bridge they were spied by the "pirates" who at once gave chase.

The race was a spirited one for a while but as the Coshoctons had harnessed as well as brain on their side they soon outdistanced their pursuers and reached a haven of safety.

What became of the pirates? Why they went back up stream to catch more unwary souls.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women To Consider

First.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

THE PAPER KING.

He Has Arrived and Will Be at Anderson's Drug Store All Day Today.

H. T. Calver, known all over the country as the "Paper King," is in the city and will be here all day today, in the north show window of Anderson's Drug Store.

Mr. Calver is an albino. His complexion has the peculiar shade seen in the people of this class and his hair and eyebrows are white. Moreover, his hair is very long, and he allows it to hang down over his shoulders while he works, attracting much attention.

Mr. Calver is advertising Herpeltide the great hair restorer, and he stands in the show window and fashions paper into all sorts of beautiful designs. He does this by tearing it with his fingers, and is certainly an expert—in fact, an artist, and worthy of his title, the "Paper King."

He was in the Anderson show window all of the afternoon and attracted large crowds, as he no doubt will tonight. He, of course, gives away the beautiful fashioned designs, after making them in the sight of his beholders.

TELLS OF METEOR

HIT HERE IN 1859

Older Residents Remember the Excitement that Ensued.

A correspondent writing from New Concord, Muskingum county, Ohio, in 1859, gives to a Columbus paper an account as follows:

"It was an astounding noise in the sky like the roaring of a cannon, which was followed by the fall of a number of stones weighing from 2 to 50 pounds. It appears that the noise was heard through a wide range of country and that stones of the kind described were found freshly imbedded in the earth in the same manner as if they had been thrown."

This was in Morgan, Muskingum, Coshocton, Morrow and Tuscarawas counties. Near McCollinsville some boys observed a huge stone descend to the earth which looked like a red ball, leaving a line of smoke in its wake. A man walking in his field near New Concord heard a terrific crash like thunder and then plainly saw a large body descending through the air in an angling direction with great velocity.

Going to the spot he found a rock weighing over 50 pounds imbedded in the earth a depth of two feet. Houses were shaken by the shock, and in some instances doors were burst open. It occasioned great consternation in that section, as well as might. —Matthew's Scrap Book, Vol. I, page 67.

E. railroad to the west curb line, of Sixteenth street according to the plans, profiles and specifications on file in said office. Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond in the sum of $250 to the satisfaction of the board or a certified check for $250 on a solvent bank, as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.

If the work bid for embraces both labor and material they shall be separately stated with the price therefor.

Bidders are required to use the printed forms, which will be furnished on application.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

W. S. Hutchinson, Clerk of the Board of Public Service. Dated, July 27, 1906. J30 A6 12

MORE MEN Had to Be Called to Complete the Standard Oil Jury.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The investigation by a special federal grand jury of the charges of illegal rebates by Chicago railroads to the Standard Oil company that was to have begun here Monday was postponed at the last minute until Tuesday because the venire developed a shortage for various reasons. United States Marshall Hoy in personal charge of six deputy marshals started out to seek seven additional grand jurors to fill out the venire. Only 15 of the men summoned for the special grand jury presented themselves before Judge Beetha, and an order was issued at once that seven additional members of the grand jury be directed to appear forthwith. Judge Beetha excused until Tuesday the eight witnesses who appeared for examination.

Adkins Out of Race. Lima, O., Aug. 7.—As the result of a conference held by the Democratic leaders of the Fourth district Charles H. Adkins retires from the race for congress, and William E. Touvelle, the regular Democratic nominee, will have clear sailing. Adkins, it is understood, has been promised the nomination two years hence.

Well Drillers Strike Wood. Columbus, O., Aug. 7.—Well drillers sinking a well at the county infirmary at a depth of 180 feet struck a block of wood, and it took some time for the drill to cut through it. Small pieces of the timber came to the surface with the flow of water. The men say they had the same experience in one or two other places in Franklin county.

A Glimpse Out Doors. Columbus, O., Aug. 7.—Herman Peters, a life prisoner in the penitentiary, who has been behind the stone walls 24 years, was again given the privilege of coming out to the front yard and seeing the world when one of his patent sprinklers was fixed and put in working order at the fountain. This is the second time Peters has seen the front yard this year, and also the second in 24 years. Peters was sent up from Lancaster for murder.

Forgot to Move Screen. Tunis Elson appeared before Mayor Smith Tuesday morning and paid a fine of $5 for disregarding the screen ordinance last Sunday. Chief Marshal noticed that Elson had neglected to remove the screens so directed him to appear before the mayor.

Prison Sentence. Portland, Ore., Aug. 7.—Charles Nickell, newspaper publisher and former United States commissioner at Medford, was sentenced to 13 months' imprisonment on McNeill's Island. No fine was imposed. Nickell was convicted for conspiracy to suborn perjury in connection with the Miller and fraud conspiracy. Harry W. Miller and Frank E. Kincart are serving one year on McNeill's Island for the same offense. Pending an appeal Nickell was released on $4,000 bonds.

SAYS SHEOL IS HEAVIEST CROP

Coshocton Boy in Philippines Is Not Well Impressed.

The Age is in receipt of a letter from a Coshocton boy in the Philippines, in which he says some things regarding soldiering in the tropics, in an original manner. Here is the way his letter runs:

To the Coshocton Daily Age,
Dear Sirs:— Coshocton, Ohio.
I send you a sketch of the Philippine Islands, written by a soldier of Troop O, 8th Cav. entitled: "A Geographical Description of the Philippines."

The Philippines are a bunch of trouble gathered on the horizon of the eastern hemisphere.

They are bounded on the north by rocks and destruction, on the east by typhoons and sharks, on the south by cannibals and earthquakes, and on the west by Hoochoonism and smugglers.

The climate is a combination of electrical changes, especially adapted to raising Cain and disturbances.

The soil is extremely fertile, producing large crops of insurrection and treachery.

The rivers are of serpentine nature, their currents flowing in opposition to all known laws of gravitation.

The inhabitants are extraordinarily industrious. Their chief occupation being trench digging and the manufacturing of holes and the raising of game cocks.

Their chief amusements are fighting, Monte dealing, theft and cheating.

The diet consists of fried rice, beiled rice, stewed rice, cooked rice, rice, more rice and fish.

The native drink is "beno," which is better described as concentrated cactus juice, barbed wire, spirits of carbide shells and lightning.

The native house is built of bamboo and is only one story high, built on stilts about three feet from the ground. The space between the floor and the ground serves as a rendezvous for the hogs, chickens, dogs and kids. The natives being on the floor above. The furnishings of the house embrace a bamboo cot and rice pot. The poorer sleep on the floor.

The native costume is a flour sack tied around the waist. The children under twelve years of age go naked.

The native marriage ceremony is very impressive, wherein the wife is given the privilege of working as much as the husband desires, which is from daylight till dark.

The best of burden is the Caribbo. One going a journey of three miles, takes provisions for three days. If the journey was to be of one hundred miles the driver would die of old age before reaching his destination.

Communication has been established between the numerous islands by substituting the mosquitos for the carrier pigeon, the mosquito being much larger and more fitted to stand the fatigue of the journey.

The principal exports of the islands are rice, hemp, war bulletins and lake tumors.

The principal imports are American beer, bun whiskey and dopy cigarettes.

Malaria is so prevalent that the islands on several occasions have been shaken by chills.

Luzon the largest of the group resembles one of St. Perkins' cast-off boots.

Manila, the capital, is situated on the Manila bay, a large land-locked body of water, full of sharks, filth and Spanish boats.

Cavite, the next city of importance, is noted for its large number of sa-sons and Chinamen.

The native towns as a rule are an aggregation of filth, fleas, cur dogs, cats, chickens, caribboas, flies, ants, natives and Chinamen, all living on terms of equality.

We are hoping for the better.

A soldier.

CURE FOR HAY FEVER

C. E. Anderson Says Hyomei Will Give Relief. Sold Under Guarantee.

The hay fever season is at hand and many people have already arranged to leave town so that they may avoid the sneezing, the watery eyes, and other annoying symptoms of this disagreeable summer disease.

C. E. Anderson wishes us to announce that when Hyomei is used as a preventive or a cure there will be no hay fever. C. E. Anderson advises daily treatment with Hyomei for a couple of weeks before the usual time for the appearance of the disease. If this is done, the attack will be prevented. However, if the treatment is not started soon enough and the disease makes its appearance use Hyomei six or seven times a day and relief will be had at once.

There is no stomach dosing when Hyomei is used. Breathe it through the nose pocket inhaler that comes in every outfit so that the medicine reaches the minutest air cells, killing all germs and soothing and healing the diseased membrane.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottle 50c. It is the only treatment for hay fever sold by C. E. Anderson, Coshocton, with a guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

Record Yield Of Oats Reported

J. L. Boyd, the well known Keene farmer reports what is probably the heaviest yield of oats in the county. Out of 100 shocks, ten sheaths to the shock he got 176 bushels of oats. Out of one wagon load of 20 shocks the yield was 44 bushels. As farmers generally consider that eight sheaves yield one bushel, it is readily seen how heavy this crop averages. Foster & Reed did the threshing.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

No sittings at my studio the week of August 6. Studio will be open however. A. E. Riley.

MUST BUY FROM CARRIERS.

If Rural Route Patrons Want Routes Kept Going.

Coshocton county as well as all other rural mail carriers are to be required to keep a monthly report of all mail handled on their respective routes.

This order means much to all patrons of rural free delivery, but very few realize the importance of this order. It means that all registered letters or packages, postal cards, newspapers, circulars and all mail must be counted daily and all supplies which are sold must be accounted for at the end of each trip. And above all the revenues from cancellations must be as large as possible if the patrons want to keep the service before their door.

Uncle Sam wants revenue and he expects the patrons of the routes to patronize their carrier. Many people who are ignorant of the fact and many others who think they can do as they please, are neglecting their duty.

their mail to the postoffice are working against the service and weakening their routes. The routes at the end of each year should show an increase in revenue, but it is a fact that many are stationary while a great many show a decrease. The department will watch the reports of the carriers each month and it behooves the patrons of the routes to do all business on their routes in such a way as to keep them going.
